Mrs. W. J. Steinmetz, Mrs. Sam Walker, Mrs. E. Z. Walter, Mrs. R. C. Shipley and Mrs. Claude Davis.

The Mills Addition Embroidery Club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Chas. Thomas on Wednesday, June 2. Election of officers being in order, Mrs. Thomas was chosen for the presidency, Mrs. M. A. Hawkins vice president, and Mrs. Arthur Lewis secretary. Delicious refreshments were served late in the afternoon by the hostess. The Club will meet but once in two weeks during the summer months, the next place of meeting being at the home of Mrs. August Pell.

Mrs. Alva Melton of Rockford, Ill., after visiting the San Diego and Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco, is in Klamath Falls visiting her two nieces, Mrs. Loy Hilyard and Mrs. Floyd Mundy. She will remain several days, and will then return home by way of Portland and Seattle.

A reception for Governor Withcombe is being planned by the Women's Library Club of this city, to be held on June 27, when the governor is to be in Klamath Falls. A special committee has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements, and the members are Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg, Mrs. L. Jacobs, Mrs. C. V. Fisher, Mrs. H. R. Harrison and Mrs. Wilbur Jones.

The Tattling Club postponed its meeting, to have been held last Wednesday, two weeks, and the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Camp, 927 Jefferson street, on a week from Wednesday, June 23d.

Civil Cases Drawing to Close

Trial of the civil case of Harry S. Woods against J. B. Bankero for possession of a ranch in Poe Valley is drawing toward the end in circuit court. The defense began introducing testimony this afternoon, and before court adjourns the arguments may be made. J. C. Rutledge is appearing for Woods and W. H. A. Renner for Bankero. The ranch in dispute belongs to the plaintiff, but Bankero is living on it, and refuses to move because he alleges he is entitled to use of the ranch by terms of a certain lease. Woods denies this, and seeks to secure through the court giving him possession of the place.

TO OLD MEXICO BY AUTOMOBILE

For a six months trip through scenic Old Mexico, Charles J. Ferguson of the law firm of Kuykendall & Ferguson, left this morning in his Ford car by way of San Francisco and Los Angeles. He will visit the exposition for a short time, and then will proceed into the republic now rent with rebellion.

"I am going to exercise a little care and judgment in selecting where I travel," said Ferguson, before he left this morning. "Once upon a time I had to go where shells flew thick and fast, but no more for me. I do not consider that the trip is particularly dangerous, but I shall not be too anxious to reach the spot of greatest interest."

Town Topics

J. O. Is Present

J. O. Hamaker, pioneer citizen of Bonanza, is spending a few days in the county seat on business.

Elks in for Ceremony

W. C. Dalton, manager of the big Carr ranch in the Tule Lake section, came in last evening to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the Elks' new Temple. Among others in from the country were Lindsay Sismore of Fort Klamath; J. Frank Adams, Merrill, and W. W. Smith, Bly.

Home From Vacation

J. M. Watkins, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, returned last evening from Seattle, where he was enjoying a vacation. C. I. Hall, who has been filling his position here, will leave tomorrow for Seattle.

Performing an Operation

An operation on the 16-year-old daughter of Joe Buermann of the valley south of Klamath Falls is being performed at the Blackburn hospital this afternoon by Dr. C. E. Wheeler, assisted by Drs. Johnson and Cathey.

Lassen Is Now Quiet

REDDING, June 12.—After sputtering for two days in another threatened eruption, Mt. Lassen, east of this city, is lying quiet, apparently with little danger of another eruption. Hat Creek ranchers have sent a delegation here to get aid in an effort to turn the creek destroyed by the recent eruptions back into its channel.

Moving Pictures

Wallace Eddinger, a popular stage star, will make his first appearance in pictures at the Star theater today, in the unique society comedy hit, "A Gentleman of Leisure," a Laesky production in five parts. The picture contains many funny situations. Eddinger, on a wager, takes the role of a burglar. He becomes involved in all sorts of mix-ups. He finds that the one he is to rob is his sweetheart, and before the end comes he wins the girl, also the bet. His method of procedure is cause for much merriment. Other picture attractions will be presented in addition to the feature.

The program at the Orpheus tonight is one of unusual interest and bound to please all, as there is variety in abundance. "The Gateway of Destruction," featuring Francis Ford, supplies thrills galore, and makes a great headliner. "A Buried City" is an educational subject, depicting the work being done by the Harvard University in Egypt. "The Golden Spider," featuring popular Mary Fuller, and "They Were on Their Honeymoon," a roaring comedy, complete this well balanced bill. There will be an entire change of program tomorrow.
